

Sun-Tech is pleased to share that we have obtained many positive responses in our i-pol workshop held in June. On that day, over a hundred of participants had attended and actively participated, especially in the Q & A session. We would like to thank for all your support of our products and events.

Moreover, according to the three speakers' sharing, the usage of technology for education sector is inevitable and subsequently each student will learn through a computer during the lessons, thus our i-pol, English Online Learning Platform, will probably match up with this trend and provide fruitful resources for teachers and students.

Upcoming Marketing and Promotional Event

Besides holding some local workshops and seminars, every year, we also participate in featured international exhibitions, so as to explore new markets, demonstrate our latest products as well as keep contact with our partners over the world.

In October, we are going to join the Worlddidac 2008 in Switzerland which focuses on the international education and training industry. For your information, details are shown as below.

Worlddidac 2008

Date: 29-31 October 2008 (Wed to Fri)
Time: From 9 a.m. to 6 p.m (Wednesday and Thursday)
From 9 a.m. to 5 p.m (Friday)
Place: Hall 1, Exhibition Center Basel, Switzerland
Booth Number: A73

We have great honor to invite all of you to join us, and let us show you our latest products as well as share our recent development. Please feel free to contact our marketing team if you have any enquiry. We do look forward to seeing you there.

Product Enhancement

Together with the new series of our BoardWiz, we have also further developed our BoardWiz Mini. In this new version, our BoardWiz Mini can support up to 51 pieces per room that means participants can express their points of view through their own BoardWiz Mini. Hence, interactivity and efficiency of communication is greatly facilitated.

In addition, due to the prevalence of wireless usage, we have developed the XCLASS

Wireless Version. We are now glad to announce that our XCLASS Wireless Version will be launched in October 2008. To help all of you understand better of our new version, please contact our Sales Team at sales@suntechgroup.com.

Once again, we would like to thank for all your continuous support. Hope you can obtain valuable and updated information about our recent development through this newsletter.
